

I have known Hannah for over fifteen years and during this period of time, I have watched her passion for all animals grow and her knowledge of their needs and behaviour expand. I have truly never met anyone more passionate about animals.

As a teenager, going to Hannah's property was always a fun adventure as there was usually more than one injured animal in the residence they had recently rescued, in addition to their own wonderful family of pets. Hannah has been exposed and assisted such a vast array of animals over the years; you could almost mistake her as another member of the Irwin family!

Last year, my partner and I decided it was time to get our own puppy. Little did we know the work involved and immediately, we sort out reliable and expert advice on how to raise this crazy creature into a well trained, obedient dog. With her background and expertise in vet nursing, I knew Hannah's advice was the only one I would trust and as a result, we spent many weekends learning the needed skills for training your own dog. Hannah's calm yet firm demeanour, in conjunction with her vast knowledge, was extremely impressive and comforting. As a result, a year later, I have a fantastic dog of which I owe a great deal of gratitude to Hannah.

With my partner's family living interstate, we have needed to take frequent trips over the last year and thankfully, Hannah has always been available to house and pet sit during these periods. As quite a protective pet owner, I have always been extremely grateful to have Hannah available at these times as I really wouldn't trust anyone else. We are off to Fiji in September for a week for our honeymoon and I have already booked her services for this period. The only problem I have is detaching Chewy (my dog) from her at the end of her stay! He loves her!

I am delighted Hannah has created Poppins Pet-Sitters and if you are like me, and really don't trust the care of your pet with just anyone, then you can finally gain some peace of mind. Go away on that long weekend or the holiday you have been putting off as you will not have to worry. Hannah and her team will give your pet the highest care possible as understanding and loving animals, is what they are all about. Please, do not hesitate to call me if you have any queries.
